We recently released our Work Plan for Fiscal Year 2005, and posted a copy to our web site at www.irs.gov/tribes. We have shared the Work Plan each year, in order to provide our customers with information on where we will be focusing added attention during the current year. This includes emphasis we will place on certain issues, and added efforts we will undertake in education and examinations.

I am often asked how we determine the areas where we will place added focus. This is a complex process that involves considerable judgment, but much of the information required to make those determinations are based on a combination of customer feedback in our annual survey, changing demographic and economic trends within Indian country, and fairness. This latter factor, fairness, is often misunderstood, but principally involves our need to ensure that all Tribes are treated equally with other types of governmental entities, as well as with each other.

For the current fiscal year, we will be placing added emphasis on the issues associated with tribal gaming. This includes adherence with Title 31 requirements (anti money laundering statutes), tip income reporting compliance, and information reporting in the areas of gaming payouts to patrons and expenditure of gaming proceeds by the Tribe. Our work will include a combination of enhanced outreach, as well as focused Compliance Checks and examinations.

The emphasis placed on gaming issues does not mean that we will ignore other issues and needs. We recognize that many Tribes do not have gaming, and that those who do have gaming also have numerous other tribal enterprises and tax issues. We will continue to address those issues and needs.

As always, I am available to discuss any concerns you may have that cannot be resolved with my local staff. I can be reached at 202-283-9800.

IRS Tribal Consultation Policy Update

In April 2003 we embarked upon a journey to develop an IRS Tribal Consultation Policy in conformance with the requirements of Executive Order 13175. We held 12 regional listening meetings, utilized a joint IRS Tribal drafting committee, and recently solicited feedback from tribal leaders on a draft policy that was developed through these efforts.

We are now in the final stages, and expect to have a policy published in the Federal Register in the near future. While we recognize that the final policy cannot satisfy everyone's interests, we are confident that the process we employed have maximized the opportunity for input, and will provide Tribes the communication mechanisms to be able to raise issues of interest to them at any time.

We wish to thank everyone who participated in the listening meetings, provided suggestions and feedback, and helped to create the draft policy. This effort has truly been an example of the effective exercise of government-to-government relations.

Customer Satisfaction Survey Results

The office of Indian Tribal Governments recently completed its second annual Customer Satisfaction survey. We received responses from 195 Tribes, an increase of 43% from the 2003 survey. Our appreciation to everyone who took time to provide us with valuable feedback on our operations. A report on the results of the survey is posted to our Internet site at www.irs.gov/tribes.

In general, overall satisfaction rose from 68% to 70%, while dissatisfaction dropped from 10% to 3%. While these results indicate improvements have been made, the survey also showed several areas where we need to place added efforts.

One of those areas involves the clarity of our forms and publications. We have already started work to improve Publication 4268, our on-line Employment Tax Desk Guide for Tribal Governments. We are also involved in a redesign of Form 941, the Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return, in the hope that we can streamline the form and improve its design. Since that form involves all employers, and the Social Security Administration, the revision process will be lengthy and a new form may not be implemented for some time.

Another area for improvement is our need to ensure fairness in addressing issues with Tribes, in other words, to take actions that reassure Tribes that we are addressing similar issues with ALL Tribes at approximately the same time. While that has been our objective, we will be redoubling our efforts to ensure equity exists.

Although the Customer Satisfaction Survey is done on an annual basis, we welcome your feedback at any time. Comments and/or suggestions can be submitted to us at tege.ask.itg@irs.gov.

TRIBAL LEADERS

Don't leave Federal dollars on the table

Help working Native families claim the Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC)!

Every year, millions of EITC dollars go unclaimed in Native communities. Families may qualify for refunds from $390 to $4,300 in the 2004 tax year, depending on their amount of earned income and number of qualifying children. You can help members of your community claim the EITC refund through their income tax returns.

©2004 Sue Fetzhigh

Launch an EITC Outreach Campaign

Download free resources at www.eitc.info/native to help get the word out to eligible families who are not currently claiming the EITC. You can organize a local coalition to:

- Run public service announcements and articles in local newspapers
- Include an EITC notice in employees' paychecks and W-2 statements
- Distribute flyers through housing and other service providers

Publicize Free Tax Preparation Sites

Help consumers find free tax preparation sites to maximize their refund value. Obtain Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) locations near your community by calling 1-800-829-1040. Or e-mail the county and state of desired locations to donna.lancaster@irs.gov. Please contact sites directly to confirm operation hours and assistor availability.

Host EITC Workshops

Educate consumers about the EITC by recruiting financial education providers in your community to conduct workshops using a new workbook called Building Native Communities: A Guide to Claiming the EITC produced by First Nations Development Institute and the Annie E. Casey Foundation. For free copies, contact First Nations at 540-371-5615 or info@firstnations.org or visit www.firstnations.org

Casino Technology Advances Must Meet Anti-Money Laundering Statute Requirements

Technological advances continue in the gaming industry – new types of electronic games, improved player tracking systems, automated payout and reporting systems, and improved security and surveillance systems. All of these advances can improve operations. However, it is important to ensure that these advances do not bring risk to the casino operation, specifically that the changes they entail do not result in lapses in adherence to information reporting requirements and the anti-money laundering statutes under Title 31 of the U.S. Code.

One of the advances that is gaining momentum within tribal casinos is the installation of slot machines that issue “paper payouts”. Instead of cash or tokens being generated from the slots, a coded piece of paper denoting the amount of the win is issued by the machine. In some cases the patron can insert the ticket into a similar machine and credits totaling the amount of the ticket will register, enabling the player to continue gaming. The patron may also “cash” the ticket. In the past, a cash payout has normally been handled at the cage. However, we have observed that several casinos are installing machines that hold a considerable amount of cash, and that have the capability of cashing out the ticket.

The casino may have control in programming the amount that the machine can pay out, but there is often no ability to record the identification of the person conducting the transaction. As a result, the casino may be at risk of violating requirements of Title 31, the Bank Secrecy Act if there is no way to keep track of how much money an individual patron may secure from these machines in a gaming day. The transactions that would normally be shown on the Multiple Transaction Log maintained at the cage would not be recorded. If a patron had won multiple slot jackpots in which a Form W-2G was not required, then cashed out credits that had accumulated, no aggregation would be done, and it is likely that the requirement to prepare a CTR-C could go undetected if the total wins in a gaming day were over $10,000. Several casinos have addressed this area by ensuring that the machines have a pre-determined limit on the amount that can be independently transacted by the customer. That additional step can help ensure that Title 31 requirements can be met if the limit is properly set. A common limit appears to be $3000. Any payout in excess of that amount requires the involvement of a floor employee who can then secure the information required for Title 31 purposes.

Casinos have the responsibility of making sure that Title 31 rules and regulations are met. Automated cash-out machines that are not capable of controlling large transactions by an individual may jeopardize the effectiveness of the casino’s Title 31 program, and may place the casino at risk in the event of an examination. When installing new technology such as this, the casino needs to ensure that the equipment has the capability of fully addressing all of the processes that were performed by cage and floor personnel, and in this case, has safeguards that ensure anti-money laundering statute requirements are met.

Abusive Schemes

We continue to work with Tribes in identifying and addressing schemes that are surfacing in Indian country. If someone approaches you with a deal that seems “too good to be true”, or if you find evidence of abuses of tribal finances by former employees or consultants, please contact us via e-mail at tege.schemes.itg@irs.gov. We want to partner with Tribes to prevent abuses, and protect tribal resources and the interests of tribal members.

What to do when you receive a mismatch penalty notice

Mismatch notices are generated by one of the Internal Revenue Service Campuses when the taxpayer identification number and name on an information return do not match either Social Security Administration or Internal Revenue Service records. There are two types of mismatch notices generated according to the information return that was filed by the payer.

Form 1099-MISC- mismatch notices are Letters CP2100 and CP2100A. The CP2100 package will contain a B Notice Letter. The payer must send the payee the B Notice within 15 days of receiving the CP2100 along with a blank W-9 for confirmation of the taxpayer identification number. The envelope must be clearly marked on the outside with “Important Tax Information Enclosed”. The payer must provide return mail information to the payee or a pre-addressed return envelope. Make sure that the date, account number and back-up withholding rate are all on the B Notice before it is mailed to the payee. The payer must begin back-up withholding if the payee does not respond within 30 days to the B Notice.

If the payer receives a second B Notice on the same payee, the payer must issue the second B Notice Letter. This Notice requires the payee to contact the Social Security Administration on Form SSA-7028 and request that the Social Security Administration provide the proper social security number to the payer. If the incorrect tax identification number is an employer identification number, the payee must write to the Internal Revenue Service Entity Section where the payee normally files their income tax return. The payee must include a copy of the second B Notice and request that the IRS send Letter 147C to the payer. Important Note: This information must be requested in writing. The confirmation must be received directly from SSA or the IRS in order to stop or prevent back-up withholding. A detailed description of this process and the Form SSA-7028 may be found in Publication 1679.

Letter 972CG-Casinos that receive mismatch notices concerning Form W-2G are sent Letter 972CG. The payer may contact the payee in one of three ways. The payee may be notified about the mismatch notice by letter, by telephone, or electronic mail. The payer must provide the payee with a W-9 to correct their taxpayer identification number regardless of which solicitation method it uses to notify the patrons of the mismatch notice. Please refer to Publication 1586 for full details concerning notification requirements.

The Letter 972CG is a proposal to assess penalties. The penalties are not assessed if there is reasonable cause to waive the penalties. The IRS may assess the penalties if the payer does not respond to Internal Revenue Service within 45 days of receiving the letter. The payer should contact the IRS if more than 45 days are needed to fully respond to the notice.

The payer must check its records, solicit verification of addresses and taxpayer identification numbers from payees, and write back a response to the Letter 972CG.

Penalties for failure to furnish and failure to file correct information returns may be waived if the payer can show that the failure was due reasonable cause and not willful neglect. Reasonable cause means that the payer acted in a responsible manner both before and after the failure occurred.

Acting in a responsible manner means that payer makes an initial solicitation (request) for a payee's name, address and taxpayer identification number. Once a mismatch notice is received the payer must check its records against the information furnished by the Internal Revenue Service. If the payer information matches the information on the mismatch notice the payer must contact the payee in one of the three ways mentioned in Publication 1586 in order to obtain the payee's correct taxpayer identification number and address. In many cases penalties have not been waived because the payer has not completed the follow-up actions required to demonstrate reasonable cause after being notified of the mismatch by the Social Security Administration or the Internal Revenue Service.

Often times mismatch notices are issued to a payer several years after the reportable transaction took place. For example, a payer asked a customer to complete Form W-9 and used the information supplied by the payee to fill out the Form W-2G in 2002. In 2004 the payer receives a Letter 972CG concerning the same payee. An employee of the payer attempts to telephone this person and finds the telephone number is no longer in service. The employee sends a written notification to the payee and receives the letter back marked "return to sender". The employee runs the payee's name through the 2003 and 2004 payee records and does not find a match. The payee appears to no longer have a relationship with the payer. The payer is not required to try and contact the payee any further. The payer should respond to the Notice 972CG, stating that the exception to the requirement for the annual solicitation is met because the payee has a closed account. However, if the customer comes back in 2004 the whole verification process begins again.
